

CONTRIBUTORS

Gregory Kirk is Associate Chair and Senior Lecturer of the Philosophy Department at Northern Arizona University. He is the author of The Pedagogy of Wisdom: An Interpretation of Plato's Theaetetus, (Northwestern University Press, 2015).

Syed Sayeed is Professor of philosophy at the English and Foreign Languages University, Hyderabad. After obtaining his doctorate from IIT Kanpur, he taught at the Aligarh Muslim University for several years. He was a Charles Wallace Trust Visiting Fellow at Liverpool University. His areas of interest are philosophy of social sciences, literature, ontology and political philosophy.

Patricia Fagan is Associate Professor of Greek and Roman Studies at the University of Windsor in Windsor, Canada. Her research focusses on ancient Greek poetry and philosophy. She is the author of Plato and Tradition: The Poetic and Cultural Context of Philosophy (Northwestern University Press, 2013).

P. G. Jung is Associate Professor of philosophy at the Department of Humanities and Social Sciences, IIT Bombay. His research focuses on philosophy of language, history of ideas and the philosophy of everydayness. In the context of his contribution in this particular Issue of SHSS, he is the co-editor of Teaching in Unequal Societies (Bloomsbury, 2020).

Eric S. Nelson is Professor of Humanities at the Hong Kong University of Science and Technology. He works on Chinese, German, and Jewish philosophy. Among his publications, the recent ones are Daoism and Environmental Philosophy (Routledge, 2020), Levinas, Adorno, and the Ethics of the Material Other (SUNY Press, 2020).