FOREWORD

The original Government Collection of Sanskrit Manuscripts deposited in the Deccan College during the 19th century was deposited in the Bhandarkar Oriental Research Institute when that Institute was founded in 1917. When the Deccan College was revived in 1939 as a foundation for research and post-graduate study in linguistics, Archæology and Sociology-Anthropology, a new collection was started primarily through gifts received from different parties and to a certain extent by a search initiated by members of the staff, particularly Dr. R. G. Harshe, the first Registrar of the Institute. This collection now contains over 10,000 manuscripts covering different aspects of Sanskrit literature. A hand list was prepared several years ago and steps had been taken to prepare descriptive catalogues when under a project approved by the Ministry of Scientific Research and Cultural Affairs, Government of India, catalogues of Indian manuscripts were to be prepared according to a set form approved by a special Committee appointed by the Ministry and the Deccan College was among several institutions invited to seek the advantage of having their catalogues published under this scheme. The work of preparing the descriptive catalogues of these manuscripts has been undertaken by different members of the staff of the Deccan College and the present volume is published with the help of the grant-in-aid for publication of catalogues of manuscripts given by the then Ministry of Scientific Research and Cultural Affairs, Government of India, New Dehli. It is expected that similar volumes will follow each other at short intervals and cover the entire range of the present collection of manuscripts.

S. M. KATRE,

INTRODUCTION

The present catalogue forms the third volume of the Catalogue of Manuscripts deposited in the Mss. Library of the Deccan College Post-graduate and Research Institute, Poona, and deals with the manuscripts on the Dharmaśāstra section numbering 512 in all.

Although it is not possible to arrange the Mss. in watertight compartments, they are presumably classified broadly under the following categories: 1 Smṛtis and their commentaries (Nos. 1-25); 2 Nibandhas (26-151); 3 Time (152-167); 4 Sāpiṇḍya (168-173); 5 Dāna (174-187); 6 Prāyaścitta (188-234); 7 Āśauca (235-257); 8 Prayoga and Paddhati (262-317); 9 Saṁskāra (318-327); 10 Karma (328-330); 11 Kuṇḍa (331-345); 12 Gotra (346-352); 13 Dattāka (353-354); 14 Śrāddha (258-261 and 355-431); and 15 Miscellaneous (432-512).

1. SMṚTIS AND COMMENTARIES (1-25)

This section deals with the manuscripts of Smṛti works and the commentaries thereon. Among the important Smṛtis mention may be made of the Manusmṛti, Yājñavalkyasmṛti with the commentary, Mitākṣarā, Viṣṇusmṛti, Parāśarasmṛti with commentary, as also a few minor Smṛtis ascribed to Āśvalāyana, Devala, Uśanas, Vasiṣṭha, Dakṣa, Saṁkha and others.

2. NIBANDHAS OR DIGESTS (Nos. 26-151)

The section on the Nibandhas or Digests is fairly represented and we find many important works mentioned in this section. The Nibandhas deal with numerous topics of the Dharmaśāstra literature and some of them e. g. the Mayūkhās of Nīlakaṇṭha-bhāskara deal with specific topics. In such cases it is difficult to put them in one class or the other and as such they are included under the section on the nibandhas or digests. Among such works we find the compilations such as Dānamayūkha, Prāyaścittamayūkha, Śāntiratna and several others which deal with specific aspects of Dharmaśāstra.

3. KĀLA OR TIME (Nos. 151-167)

The next group consists of manuscripts of works which treat of auspicious time for the performance of religious rites and ceremonies. Some of the important works in this section are Kālanirṇaya of Mādhava, Tithicintāmaṇi of Gaṇeśa and the Tithinirṇaya attributed to Dinakarabhaṭṭa and Raghunātha.

4. SĀPIṆDYA (Nos. 168-173)

The Sāpiṇḍya relationship has played an important role in the history of Dharmaśāstra and particularly in the Hindu law of inheritance and partition. This branch of Dharmaśāstra is represented in our collection by the three main works on the topic viz., Sāpiṇḍyadīpikā of Śrīdhara, Sāpiṇḍyanirṇaya of Ananta and the Sāpiṇḍyapradīpa of Nagojibhaṭṭa Kāla.

5. DĀNA OR GIFT (Nos. 174-187)

The important works on Dāna in our collection are the Dānakamalākara of Kamalākarabhaṭṭa, Dānakaustubha of Ananta, and Dānaratna of Lakṣmaṇabhaṭṭa. The first of these forms part of the author's larger work called the Dharmatattvakamalākara or Tattvakamalākara and describes various types of gifts and their merit. The Dānakaustubha is, likewise, a section of the author's voluminous compilation known as the Smṛtikaustubha which is considered as an authoritative work on Dharmaśāstra.

6. PRĀYAŚCITTA OR ATONEMENT FOR SIN (Nos. 188-234)

The section on Prāyaścitta is also well represented in the present catalogue inasmuch as we find nearly 47 manuscripts which deal with the penances that have to be performed for the atonement of sins committed by men. Along with a few minor works on prāyaścitta such as the darśapūrṇamāsa and smṛtāprāyaścittāni there are manuscripts of authoritative works on the subject such as Prāyaścittakutūhala of Raghunātha, Prāyaścittamañjarī of Bāpūbhaṭṭa Keḷkar, Prāyaścittasāra of Dinakara, Prāyaścittendusekhara of Kāśīnātha Upādhyāya and of Nāgeśabhaṭṭa.

7. ĀŚAUCA OR IMPURITY (Nos. 235-257)

The earliest and the most authoritative work on Āśauca is ascribed to Vijñāneśvara and is known by the title Trīṃśacchlokī or Āśaucatrīṃśacchlokī. It deals with impurity caused on birth or death in a family. There are several commentaries on this small work. Another work of the same title is ascribed to Trimalla. Vijñāneśvara's another smaller work, Āśaucadaśaka, on the same topic is also represented in the collection.

8. PRAYOGAS AND PADDHATIS (Nos. 262-317)

Prayogas and Paddhatis or manuals on the various aspects of Dharmaśāstra form the next section covering about 54 manuscripts. One of the important and the biggest work in this section is the Prayogasāra of Viśvanātha.

9. Karmavipāka or fruit in another life of the good or bad actions committed in the previous life comprises the following section which is represented by three manuscripts, only one being complete.

The remaining manuscripts in the catalogue deal with minor topics of Dharmaśāstra such as the kuṇḍa or the construction of sacrificial altars, (Nos. 331-345), Gotras (Nos. 346-362), Dattaka or adoption, Śrāddha or obsequial rites, and miscellaneous topics.

The catalogue is followed by extracts of passages from some important manuscripts and the two Indices, one for works and the other for authors.

The catalogue is presented in a tabular form as laid down by the then Ministry of Scientific Research and Cultural Affairs, Government of India, New Delhi under whose Grant-in-Aid Scheme the present volume is being published. All possible care has been taken in compiling and editing the material in accordance with the instructions set by the said Ministry.

I have to express my deep gratitude to Dr. S. M. Katre, M.A., Ph.D. (London), Director, Deccan College Post-graduate and Research Institute, Poona, for entrusting to me the work of compiling the present catalogue of Dharmaśāstra manuscripts in the Institute's collection of manuscripts. Shri. S. R. Sardesai, B.A., LL.B., Manager, Veda-Vidya Mudranalaya, Poona, also deserves my thanks for neat printing of the catalogue, the complicated printing of which required careful type-setting for the work.
